

Lasswade Archery Club Lockdown Update

Hi Folks,

This is a quick update on Lasswade Archery Club.

For those who have forgotten what your esteemed Secretary looks like (see pic).

Things seem to be very quiet at the moment, “can’t think why”.

I hope that everyone is well, behaving and adhering to the lock-up/down and it is not affecting you too badly. June and I have now been nearly 7 weeks in each others company and no I have not been tempted to get the bow out for a bit of moving target practice. Also I don’t have a sight mark for under 18 metres.

Up to now the AGB and SAA have been very quiet with nothing much to report about getting back to archery in the near future, however I have just received an email from the SAA in regard to a podcast called The Nocking Point available at podcast@scottisharchery.org.uk

On a more serious note though, I know that a few of our archers can shoot in their own gardens, but I must remind you that you need to take out your own insurance as you are not covered by AGB or SAA.

I believe some of the committee are looking into what to do about Club fees, reduction/refunds over the coming months. Will keep you posted when a decision is made.

I think that is all for now, but if anyone has any questions or has any funny stories over the last 2 months, please feel free to share with me and I will post them in the next edition of lock-up/down life in LAC. secretary.lasswadeac@outlook.com

Please stay safe

John
